Everyone Loves an Airshow!!!

THE FIRST ANNUAL Red House International Airfield air show held Sunday attracted approximately 2,500 people, according to one air show official. Spectators from Charlotte County, Appomattox County, Campbell County, and surrounding areas came to watch the aerobatic maneuvers, and enjoy an afternoon of fun. The show was held in honor of Col. Vincent (Squeek) Burnett, a retired aerobatic pilot who lives off Route 24 between Rustburg and Concord. Proceeds from the event will benefit the Red House Volunteer Fire Department, and estimates early this week were as much as $2,000 or more raised during the event. Actions shown here includes (clockwise from upper left) a high speed, low level glider demonstration; spectator helicopter rides; parachuting exhibition; a "pitts" Special aerobatic plane stunt demonstration; Col. Squeek Burnett acknowledging the crowd; and an aviator/clown/paratrooper. (Photos by Dennis Elder)
